

MICROPTHALMIA

MEDICAL RELEASE FOR MICROPTHALMIA

This pet has a small eye, also known as microphthalmia. The condition is either due to a birth defect or previous trauma to the eye. The eye is comfortable and without discharge upon evaluation, so no further action is needed at this time. There likely is reduced vision in this eye, but many pets can compensate well and lead a good life without further treatment. If any significant discharge is noted from the eye or the pet appears to be painful, please consult further with your veterinarian. All follow-up care will need to be done at the owner's veterinarian and at the owner's expense.
